ADMISSIONS & HEALTH SUPPORT AND FITNESS TO STUDY POLICY

Purpose

Worcester Sixth Form College is committed to meeting the needs of all our students. We pride ourselves on the support and flexibility we are able to offer in providing programmes of study to best meet individual needs.

This policy sets out the principles and procedures for determining the admission of students applying to the College. It also aims to provide clarity and guidance regarding the procedures and assessment the College can undertake regarding a student's physical, emotional or psychological wellbeing and the reasonable adjustments that may be possible. It supports the College's other policies on Progression and Safeguarding and applies to both applicants and current students.

Monitoring

Admissions data is monitored regularly by the Senior Leadership Team throughout the application cycle.

Monitoring of the admissions policy will be undertaken annually in the form of a report to governors. This report will cover:

- Confirmation of the funded student number for the following academic year
- The current year's target and actual recruitment numbers.
- The proposed target student number for the following year.

The governors' Curriculum and Quality Committee will assess progress towards the target student number as part of its routine monitoring procedures.

Review

This policy will be reviewed annually by the Senior Leadership Team and presented for approval to the Curriculum and Quality Committee who will refer amendments to the Local Governing Body as appropriate.

PART A: ADMISSIONS

A1, Principles of Admission

The College needs to monitor admissions in the interests of all its members and so that students may be successful in their studies. The following principles will therefore apply:

1. The College will encourage admissions from all sections of the community.
2. A target student number will be set in the summer term of each year and applicable to entry for the following year.
3. Should the student number look set to exceed capacity, an order of priority according to 'criteria' set out below will apply.
4. Admission to individual courses will continue until they are at their agreed capacity.
5. Individual courses will be withdrawn at any time up to the point at which their teaching commences if there are insufficient enrolments for them to be viable.
6. Students will be admitted when it is established that:
 - they meet the residential and legal requirements for free education in the UK
 - a suitable programme of study is available
 - their application is supported by their previous school, college or appropriate body
 - their admission is judged to be in their own interests and that of the College as a whole
7. Students will be admitted to courses when it is established that:
 - they meet the academic entry requirements for the course or subject
 - they have the requisite skills, aptitude or other personal qualities specified for each course or subject
8. When over-subscription for College or course admission occurs, criteria for priority will be applied as shown below.
9. There will be equality of opportunity for students to apply to the College and its courses and no forms of discrimination will be applied other than those identified above.

A2, Education Health Care Plans

If the College is named as the preferred named post-16 provider on an Education Health Care Plan, the College will:

- consider the request in consultation with the Learning Support Manager and the Principal.
- request a reference from the student's current educational provider as soon as notification is received from the Local Authority.
- Contact the SENCo of the current educational provider and caseworker to discuss feasibility of a potential placement.

The Learning Support Manager will liaise with the Principal to advise on whether the College is able to offer a suitable place and meet the specific educational needs of the student. The College will respond to the request by the date specified either by post or email.

If a request is successful the caseworker will be notified and, within the response, the College will consider the potential cost of the support that is required. Please note that the student is still required to complete an online application. It is essential that the support needs are disclosed within the application to enable the admission interview to be conducted with either the Learning Support Manager or Assistant Learning Support Manager.

If a request is unsuccessful, the caseworker will be notified and given a detailed explanation of the decision made.

A3 Home Educated Students

The College welcomes applications from students who have been home educated and may not have taken formal examinations. It should be noted that all students must be aged 16 or over as at 31st August in the year of their admission. A student may never have experienced education in a school setting or may have attended school at some point in their career but have withdrawn for health or other personal reasons. We are usually not able to support students who have become home educated as a result of a failed managed move or as an alternative to exclusion from their previous school.

Students who will not have sat GCSE examinations will be asked to complete work in English and Maths so that members of staff can assess the level at which they are working.

A3, Course Entry Requirements

Course entry requirements apply at different levels and for different subjects. They are set out in detail in the Prospectus which describes the qualifications or aptitudes which are essential or desirable in each case. In broad terms requirements are:

(i) Academic Qualifications: Level

Level	Programme	Usual Requirements
Level 3 Extended Programme	3 or 4 A Level subjects plus Extended Project Qualification in Year 2	5 or more GCSEs at grades 7, 8 or 9
Level 3 Programme	3 A Level subjects or Applied equivalent or mix of A Level and Applied qualifications	4 GCSEs at 5 or above OR 5 GCSEs at 4 or above including Maths and English GCSE at grade 4 or above.
Level 3 Programme (plus GCSE)	3 A Level subjects or Applied equivalent or mix of A Level and Applied qualifications plus Maths/English GCSE	4 GCSEs at 5 or above or 5 GCSEs at 4 or above (not including Maths or English GCSE)

Mixed Level Programme	2 A Levels plus GCSE or Applied equivalent In some instances it may take a student on a mixed programme 3 years to gain 3 A Levels or equivalent.	4 GCSEs at grade 4 or above (including Maths or English)
Foundation Year	Applied qualification and GCSE(s). Progression route: Level 3 Applied course(s).	For Maths and/or English GCSE plus Applied courses a majority of grade 3s are needed and none lower than grade 2.

If students are still unsure about their subject choice, they can choose to try out a fourth subject for the first few weeks before they make a decision. Enrolment on four full A Level courses will need to be agreed.

Where students follow mixed programmes of academic and applied subjects then the course entry requirements will be applied as appropriate for the breadth and difficulty of the chosen course.

Individual arrangements will be made with home educated students.

(ii) Academic Qualifications: Subject

Students will usually be required to have gained at least a grade 4 in a subject they studied at GCSE and wish to study at Advanced Level. In some cases requirements might be higher, for example to study Further Maths, students must achieve a grade 7, 8 or 9 in GCSE Maths. In some instances subjects may require a number of GCSE's at grade 4 or above.

All A Level students will have a session(s) of Independent Study on their timetables. They may also be enrolled on Core Maths depending on their subject choices.

(iii) Students with Marginal Qualifications for Advanced Level

Where a student is only marginally qualified, as a result of a relatively low number of GCSE's and/or average GCSE score, to begin an Advanced Level course, particular rules of entry to courses apply (see above). For students choosing A Levels it may be necessary for them to follow a programme of 2 or 3 A Levels possibly alongside Foundation courses.

(iv) Other Characteristics

Some courses or subjects will require particular skills or aptitudes not necessarily evident through GCSE qualifications, for example the willingness to perform in certain Performing Arts courses and to be able to play a sport competitively where this is a practical requirement of a PE course.

For the Education and Childcare T Level, it is a requirement that students can work with children safely and effectively and to enable them to demonstrate this through the work experience component. They will need a DBS enhanced disclosure certificate which shows they are fit for work of this kind.

A4, Criteria for Priority for Entry to the College

If it is necessary to restrict admissions the following criteria will be considered:

1. Students with an Education Health and Care Plan who have been referred to the College by a Local Authority and for whom the College has agreed that it can make appropriate provision.
2. Students will otherwise be accepted in the chronological submission of their application.

The College reserves the right to make exceptions to these criteria for priority for entry where exceptional compassionate grounds for admission have been established.

Students who are suitably qualified will be awarded a place at College where there are sufficient spaces on the courses they wish to study and on the basis that there is a viable programme of study with suitable progression opportunities. Alternative courses on which there is space may be offered.

A5, Reasons for Refusal of Admission

Whilst the College wishes to maintain its open access policy and the tradition of providing a second chance to those who are serious about refocusing their education, it has to maintain standards that enable teachers to teach effectively and students to study successfully in a post-16 environment. In addition, the College has a duty of care to both staff and students and a responsibility to safeguard and protect students; in particular those under 18 and vulnerable adults.

Reasons to refuse admission include:

- Any student who is under 16 years on 1st September in the year that they are due to start at College
- Any student who is aged 19 or over on 1st September in the year that they are due to start at College
- Students who have chosen to become home educated as an alternative to exclusion from their previous school or as a result of a failed managed move.

- Misrepresentation of personal information on the application form or at interview or through some other admission procedure.
- A past record that implies the applicant is unlikely to benefit from the courses or educational experience on offer and where there is little other evidence that the applicant would be likely to benefit.
- Students with special needs where reasonable adjustments would not be sufficient to enable effective completion of the chosen course.
- Students whose qualifications do not permit them access to a full-time programme.
- Students whose presence at the College has been demonstrated to pose a risk to others or to College property.
- Students whose criminal record significantly limits their chances of success on their chosen programme/course.
- Students who have been permanently excluded or have had a fixed term exclusion from school and who fail to declare this on their application or during interview may have their offer of a place at College withdrawn.

If a student has previously been permanently excluded from the College for behavioural or academic reasons, they will be refused admission in subsequent years should they re-apply. As an exclusion decision is subject to appeal, there is no appeal in relation to refusal of admission as a result of previous permanent exclusion from College.

A6, Procedures for admission of students and potential students with criminal records

The following procedures exist to ensure that applicants with criminal convictions are given every opportunity to benefit from the courses the College offers, whilst maintaining the College's duty of care to do everything reasonable to provide a safe and secure environment.

- a) All applicants are asked to disclose whether they have relevant criminal convictions, reprimands, final warnings or pending prosecutions.
- b) Those who disclose are given information on the procedures which will be followed.
- c) On disclosure, an applicant will be asked to give further information to a Risk Assessment Panel. All such further details will be dealt with sensitively and discreetly and will be held securely.
- d) A Risk Assessment Panel will undertake an initial assessment of risk. The Panel will usually consist of the Principal or Vice Principal and the Designated Safeguarding Lead.
- e) The Panel may consult other agencies.
- f) One of three decisions is likely to be reached and the outcome will be communicated to the student in writing
 - the application continues with no additional conditions
 - the application continues with conditions attached
 - the application is rejected
- g)

The College will work with other agencies, as appropriate, either to inform the risk assessment and/or to provide appropriate support for the student once they have enrolled.

A7, Appeals against Refusal of Admission

- Written confirmation of a refusal of admission will contain notification of the right of appeal. All appeals against refusal of admission should be made in writing giving grounds for appeal.
- A request in writing within ten working days of the College's notification of refusal must be received by the Principal, from the student if over 19 years and from the parent(s) or guardian(s) of a student if under 19 years.
- The appeal will be determined by the Principal whose decision will be final.

PART B STUDENT HEALTH SUPPORT AND FITNESS TO STUDY

B1, New Applicants

Applicants to the College are encouraged to disclose health issues when completing their on-line application. During their interview they are also given the opportunity to disclose any health needs, or discuss any disclosures already made, so that an initial assessment of the impact, support or implication on the appropriateness of their proposed programme of study can be made.

Applicants may be invited to a subsequent meeting so that additional assessment and discussion of the support and adjustments that may be appropriate can be considered. When this occurs, further information may be sought from health professionals. Early disclosure of the concerns an applicant has about their medical needs will always be treated sensitively and offers the best opportunity for the College to help. An assessment at this stage would not normally preclude a student's admittance, except where it clearly indicates that the College does not have suitable resources to meet their needs, or where supporting evidence strongly indicates that they are not well enough to meet the demands of an advanced level programme of study.

If an applicant does not disclose clearly on their application form any pre-existing health issue that affects their ability to meet the requirements of their chosen programme of study once enrolled, it may not be possible to offer appropriate support, or make the same adjustments that otherwise might have been available to them. In some cases non-disclosure of medical information may lead to a student's offer of a place at College being withdrawn.

B2, How support is provided

The College has four main points of support for all students:

Pastoral Tutors and their Head of Year

Student Services which includes the College's Counselling Service

Learning Support

The Safeguarding team

(a) All students are allocated to a personal tutor who will provide information through the tutorial curriculum about health support within the College and other outside agencies. In addition they are offered regular one to one appointments to discuss any issues that may be troubling them. Onward referrals may sometimes be made at this point.

(b) Referrals and support

The type of referral and/or adjustment made to a student's programme of study will depend upon the nature and severity of their health need. In many cases tutors are able to help by intervening directly and liaising with teaching staff and parents on the student's behalf. A tutor may, for example, provide a point of collation to enable work to be sent home. Alternatively this might simply involve sharing information so that suitable adjustments can be made to the learning environment, the teaching method or style, or the timing and method of assessment, such as coursework or homework deadlines. The College recognises that illness may place significant pressure on a student and may affect their ability to meet assessment deadlines in the short-term.

Instances where students suffer from more severe health needs might be referred directly to a Head of Year. Examples of this might be where health needs have resulted in prolonged or repeated periods of absence, or have had a significant impact on academic progress. At this stage, with the student's permission, advice from other agencies may be sought, such as a GP or CAHMS, or wherever the main responsibility for the student's medical support lies.

(c) Adjustments to programmes of study

Changes to a student's programme of study after enrolment on health grounds must be made by a Head of Year, or other member of the Senior Leadership Team. In some cases a Head of Year may alter a student's timetable in order to make the College day more manageable. However, beyond a fixed date, usually six weeks after the student's first date of enrolment, supporting medical evidence is usually necessary before withdrawal from, or modification of, a course can be considered. Evidence is more valuable where a plan for support and recovery by the health professional involved is included. In reaching a decision factors such as the extent of the health need, the expected time frame (where known), its stability and the impact on progression and life chances may be considered. In general, however, adjustments may only be made whilst there remains some educational benefit or progression route to be gained from it. It may not be possible to make further adjustments to a student's programme of study where an unreasonable demand is made on the resources of the College.

(d) Student health support and monitoring

The College aims to provide full support to all its students' health needs. Cases of ill-health are recorded as they present and appropriate assessment of any adjustments or support that may be made are considered at this stage. Progress against key targets is then measured and reviewed periodically and action plans put in place by staff to assist the student in their achievement. Student performance is periodically reviewed and communicated with parents and if significant concerns arise a letter will be sent home and parents will be invited into College to discuss them.

(e) Student absence due to health issues

All students who have informed the College of absence due to illness for a prolonged period of time are subject to the conditions of the College's Attendance and Punctuality Policy and would be expected to attend a return to College meeting with the student's tutor when they are next fit and able to do so. Where this is recurrent, appropriate intervention or support may be offered and if attendance continues to fall below an agreed and expected level the tutor is likely to invite the student's parents to a meeting to discuss the student's health needs. Subject progress advice will usually be sought at the time. In some cases, particularly where absence had been prolonged due to significant health issues the tutor may refer to a Head of Year to consider additional adjustments, such as a phased return to classes. Agreements regarding attendance and completion of assessed work may be made more formally in writing at this stage.

B3, Fitness to Study Assessment and Case Review

Where illness is likely to be long-term, and/or the current level of support offered has been unsuccessful the student's Head of Year will conduct a Fitness to Study assessment with the student. The assessment will form part of a Case Review with the student and their parents where the findings of the assessment can be discussed and agreed. The object of the Case Review is to consider the impact the student's current health needs and/or absenteeism is likely to have on their educational success over a prolonged period of time (usually the remainder of the academic year), and any additional support or adjustments that might be relevant.

The usual outcome of the Fitness to Study assessment and Case Review meeting will be a set of agreed minimum standards of achievement required for academic or vocational success, such as levels attendance and assessed learning which are believed to be realistically achievable, and maintainable. The Fitness to Study assessment will normally include the advice provided from relevant parties, particularly those staff involved in delivering the student's subjects and will help form a judgement of the required outcomes. The outcomes will be recorded and shared with all relevant parties such as parents, tutors and teaching staff following the Case Review.

A possible outcome of a Fitness to Study case review may be that the health needs of the student do require further absence and that this should be supported by the College. In such circumstances the length of absence must be agreed and recorded together with the action agreed by the student and parents, and the Case Review left open. It should be noted that the nature of the College's course provision primarily takes place within the classroom, and therefore when students are absent for extended periods, even when they are well enough to engage in some learning activities at home, it may not be possible for them to successfully complete their study programmes.

B4, Risk Assessment

At any point, when a student's health needs lead to concern about their own safety, or the safety of others, they must attend a meeting with a member of the Safeguarding team, before their return to College. This may occur for instance following absence due to severe or significant illness, an attempt on their life, or significant self-harm. In this meeting a risk assessment will be carried out and the views of other health care professions may be sought. In determining the outcome of the risk assessment, factors such as risk to the student's wellbeing, impact of their health needs upon other students, and confidence in the student's ability to meet the requirements of the Student Code of Conduct will be considered. The College reserves the right to form a judgement by taking into account a balanced view of the needs of the individual with those of the whole College.

B5, Withdrawal from College

Under the Fitness to Study policy a student may be asked to withdraw themselves from the programme of study they are currently enrolled upon for the remainder of the academic year and/or for the following academic year where:

- The outcome of the Fitness to Study assessment concludes that no further adjustments are reasonably possible and that the student is unlikely to derive educational benefit from the courses they are studying. In most cases an assessment of whether their academic/vocational progress is above pass level will be used to determine this.
- They fail to meet the agreed outcomes from the Fitness to Study assessment.
- The Fitness to Study assessment concludes that the net effect of continuation with their studies may be detrimental to their health.

- The outcome of the risk assessment is that the College cannot reasonably ensure the student's own safety, or the safety of others.

When a student withdraws from College support from a Careers' Advisor and advice about wider community services will be offered.

B6, Fitness to Study and Case Review Hearing

Where agreement about the outcomes of the Fitness to Study Case Review cannot be reached, or where these have not been achieved but the request to withdraw from College has not been agreed to, the case will be referred to a member of the Senior Management team for a Fitness to Study Review Hearing. In this hearing the evidence of the concerns about the student's health will be made available to the student and their parents and they will have the opportunity to respond and put forward their case. The outcome of the hearing may be that the student is withdrawn from College on health grounds and this decision may only be made by the Principal or Vice Principal. In reaching a decision whether to withdraw a student on health grounds the Principal or Vice Principal will determine matters of fact 'on the balance of probabilities' based upon the information provided to them at the hearing. Additional supporting medical evidence may be disclosed at this time. If the decision is taken to withdraw the student on health grounds, the reason(s) for this will be notified to the student and confirmed in writing to parents/guardians. The right to appeal will be clearly explained in the letter and the policy and procedure provided as necessary. Students over the age of 19 years may be informed directly without recourse to their parents/guardians. The same right of appeal will apply.

B7, Restarting at College following ill-health

In many cases students that have previously withdrawn from College as a result of their health needs will be given the option to re-start their studies when they are fit to do so, usually the next academic year. In this instance they will be asked to complete a review of their Fitness to Study assessment as part of their new applicant interview process. In this assessment the College will be looking for reassurance that they have been pro-active in their recovery programme and for supporting evidence from a suitable health professional of their current fitness to study and resilience to meet the rigours of the programme of study they are applying for. The College will also use the Fitness to Study assessment to consider any further adjustments that may seem appropriate at the time, such as a phased return. The College reserves the right to make a conditional offer of a place based upon the satisfaction of conditions that are agreed before Course Confirmation.

B8, Confidentiality and fairness

This policy is written to comply with the Equality Act of 2010, The Children and Families Act 2014, Data Protection Act 1998 and GDPR legislation 2018. All of the support and decisions made within it aim to comply with the law of natural justice. In all cases the permission of the applicant/student will be sought before any personal information is shared with an outside body, except where it may include disclosure of criminal activity, indicates significant threat or harm to life, or where other safeguarding concerns emerge.

B9, Appeals Procedure

Written confirmation of withdrawal from college under the Health Support and Fitness to Study policy following a Review Hearing will contain notification of the right of appeal. A request in writing within ten working days of the College's notification of withdrawal must be received by the Clerk to the Local Governing Body, from the student if over 19 years or from the parent(s)/guardian(s) of a student if under 19 years, for an appeal to be heard.

This written request must state:

- (i) The ground(s) for the appeal;
 - Failure to follow college procedure, or
 - There was prejudice or bias on the part of the decision maker, or
 - The decision was unreasonable and /or disproportionate, or
 - New material evidence has become available which was not previously reasonably available during the withdrawal process, and
- (ii) The reasons for the appeal; and
- (iii) The remedy sought.

(See Appendix F for an Appeal form).

In the case of an appeal against the withdrawal of a student on health grounds, or refusal of re-admission, the Panel will consist of two governors and the Independent Chair of the Student Exclusions Appeal Panel.

The date set for the appeal hearing will be notified to the student, and his/her parents/guardians if under the age of 19 years, and they will have a right of attendance to express their views.

The decision of the Appeal Panel will be final.

A successful appeal against withdrawal on health grounds may result in the students' reinstatement.

NB, The procedure for appealing against refusal to (re)admit a student who has applied to be admitted after withdrawing from College (whether in relation to their fitness to study or for other reasons) is outlined in section A10 (above).

The procedure for Student Withdrawal Appeal Panel hearings is set out in Appendix B.

Complaints to the Education and Skills Funding Agency (ESFA)

Following an unsuccessful appeal against withdrawal on health grounds a student may make a complaint to the ESFA against the College. Any such complaint is not a further stage of appeal but an enquiry to determine whether the College has correctly followed its own procedures.

The College will advise a student that has been withdrawn on health grounds of this complaint procedure at the same time as they are notified that their appeal has been unsuccessful.

APPENDIX A

RESTRICTED CHOICES OF ADVANCED LEVEL SUBJECTS

Student choice is restricted in some subject areas because:

1. It is widely seen as desirable to broaden student programmes of study. A wider range of knowledge and skills is seen as better preparation for an unknown future.
2. The degree of overlap between some subjects devalues the results achieved in both.

3. Even where subject skills and content are different their similarity of background or subject name will cause employers and HE selectors to regard them as insufficiently different to count separately.

Restrictions

Students should not take an Applied course and an A Level in the same subject area.

Students may choose only ONE from the following:

Modern History and Early Modern History A Level

Art and Design

Students may choose up to TWO of the following at A Level:

Fine Art Graphics Photography

Very few students are advised to study more than one of these at A Level.

Performing Arts Courses

Students may choose up to TWO of the following A Level/Applied courses:

Dance Music Music Tech Performing Arts

Narrow Programmes

Students wishing to study a narrow programme should be advised to check the implications of their choices with careers guidance staff. If it is an area they hope to progress in then often this is fine, however, it is advisable if in any doubt to check. Any exceptions only with agreement of a member of the Senior Leadership Team.

APPENDIX B

STUDENT WITHDRAWAL ON FITNESS TO STUDY HEALTH GROUNDS APPEAL PANEL

1. Membership

- 1.1 The Panel shall comprise at least two members of the Local Governing Body and one senior member of staff.

- 1.2 Staff governors and student governors may not sit on the Panel. In addition, no person may sit on the Panel who has any interest in its findings or who has been involved in any way in the Fitness to Study assessment or Case Review leading up to the reference of the particular matter to the Panel unless it is reasonably impracticable to avoid.
- 1.3 The quorum for meetings of the Panel shall be three members.
- 1.4 The Panel shall convene a meeting as soon as practicable after a reference to it and shall give the appellant at least 5 working days' notice of the meeting.
- 1.5 The Clerk to the Local Governing Body shall act as Clerk to the Panel.

2. Terms of Reference

- 2.1 To examine the case for an appeal against withdrawal on health grounds/fitness to study, to determine the correct response if appropriate, and to make recommendations to the Local Governing Body as the Panel considers fit.

To give the appellant the right to make representations. The representations, which may be made in writing, may also be made orally, for which purpose the appellant may be accompanied by their parent(s) or carers.

- 2.3 The Panel will follow the procedures approved by the Local Governing Body.

3. Delegated Powers

- 3.3 Authority to re-instate the student, if appropriate.

4. Appeals Panel Procedure

- 4.1 Following the decision to withdraw the student on health grounds, or refusal of re-admission, the student or their parent/carer shall then notify the College in writing within ten working days if they wish to appeal the decision. When writing to notify the College of the intention to appeal the appellant or their parent/carer must state the grounds for the appeal.
- 4.2 The College shall set a date and time for the appeal hearing within five working days of receipt of the written request for an appeal hearing.
- 4.3 The appellant and their parent/carer will be given five working days' notice of the date and time when the appeal will be heard and where it will take place. With the agreement of the appellant and their parent/carer the appeal can be held earlier. At their request it can be deferred by up to one week.
- 4.4 The names of those who are to present evidence to the appeal panel or represent either side shall be notified to the other party no later than three days before the hearing is held. The appellant must attend the hearing. A student can be accompanied by their parent(s)/carer(s).

- 4.6 The Chair of the Panel shall determine the admissibility of papers presented at the hearing.
- 4.7 The Chair of the Panel shall call in both parties, introduce them and state the purpose of the appeal. The Chair will remind both parties that the proceedings shall remain confidential until a final decision has been taken.
- 4.8 The case against the appellant will be presented first in the presence of the appellant and their parents or carers. The appellant and their parents/carers will have the opportunity to ask questions of the College staff. Members of the Panel may also ask questions of College staff.

- 4.10 Each side in turn will have the opportunity to sum up their cases if they so wish.
- 4.11 The Chair of the Panel will then ask both the College staff and the appellant and their parents/carers to withdraw. The Panel will consider the case in private.
- 4.12 The Panel shall determine matters of fact 'on the balance of probabilities' based upon the information provided to them at the hearing.
- 4.13 The Panel may confirm, vary or dismiss the withdrawal on health grounds/fitness to study decision that has given rise to the appeal.
- 4.14 The Panel will announce its decision to the parties in writing within five working days.

- 4.16 The notification times identified in these procedures are for guidance. Where either party cannot adhere to the times identified, variations can be agreed with recourse to a ruling by the Chair of the Panel if there is no agreement.
- 4.17 Legal representation will not (normally) be permitted at appeal hearings. If an appellant or their parents/carers lack the capacity to present their case, a non-legal representative may be permitted for this purpose at the discretion of the Chair of the Panel.
- 4.18 When the appellant has exhausted the College's appeal procedure the appellant has the right to make a complaint to the Education and Skills Funding Agency. A complaint to the ESFA is not a further stage of appeal. The ESFA does not hear evidence or seek to substitute its own decision for that of the College.
